WASHINGTON, D.C. - Managed Funds Association (MFA), the leading global voice of the alternative investment industry, announced today the departure of Roger Hollingsworth, who has served as head of government relations at the trade association since 2008. Richard H. Baker, CEO of MFA, said, “Roger contributed to building an effective government relations team and provided leadership during a period of extraordinary change in the financial markets and the hedge fund industry. MFA wishes Roger success in all future endeavors.” The mission of MFA is to educate, advocate, and communicate on behalf of the alternative investment industry.

About his time at MFA and future plans, Mr. Hollingsworth noted, “I have been honored to work alongside Congressman Baker and the talented team he has assembled at MFA over these past eight years. It’s also been a privilege to work with, and on behalf of, the extraordinary professionals and firms that make up the global alternative investment community. I look forward to embarking upon new endeavors and the next chapter of my professional career and MFA continuing to make a positive, meaningful contribution to the dialogue on relevant policy issues in the months and years ahead.”
